confidentiality...

here to listen, not to tell

Remember, whatever your age, you have a right to confidential advice. If you contact agencies in this booklet nothing will be said to anyone (even if you are under 16) – including parents, other family members or key workers without your permission.

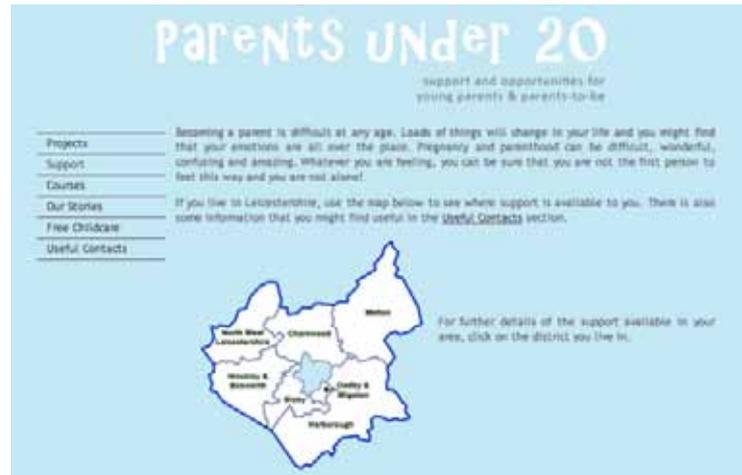

The only reason they may have to consider passing on confidential information without your permission, would be to protect you or someone else from serious harm.

They would always try to discuss this with you first.

Pregnancy Support and Information

So – you are pregnant! The next few months will probably fly and whether you are excited, nervous or terrified – help is at hand! The teenage pregnancy specialist midwives run clinics for parents under 18 and there is a range of other support available near-by – check out your part of Leicestershire via the map on the parentsunder20 website....

Sure Start Children's Centres

Children's Centres aim to give every child the best possible start in life.

They are a great place to access support on a one to one basis from a Family Outreach Worker - or to attend groups - and a good way for you to meet up with other young mums or dads.

You can access a Children's Centre if you have a child under the age of 5. In Leicestershire there are 36 Children's Centres so there is likely to be one near you!

Individual Children's Centres are able to offer different services, so it's worth finding out where your nearest Children's Centre is so that you can ring them and ask them what support is available to you.

If you're worried about going to a Children's Centre for the first time, a Family Outreach Worker might be able to come and visit you at home beforehand so that you will have a familiar face when you go there. The Family Outreach Worker team is full of warm and friendly people that are there to help you.

Some of the activities you can take part in include antenatal sessions for young mums-to-be; breastfeeding cafe; baby massage, and weigh-in clinics. There are loads more things on offer too.

What questions should I ask a child care provider?

Leaving your child in someone else's care is a big step and you need to feel happy and confident that it feels right for you.

Don't be afraid to ask questions from any prospective child care provider. If they are a good provider, they won't be afraid to answer them.

We've come up with some suggestions for questions that you might like to ask...

- What are the daily routines and how can you incorporate my child's and other children's routines?
- Do you operate a key worker scheme [where one member of staff has main responsibility for your child]?
- How will you keep me informed of my child's progress and news from the nursery/childminder/out-of-school club?

- What are your policies on discipline and how do you manage children's behaviour?
- Do you provide such things as meals, snacks, nappies, etc, or will I need to provide them?
- Where can my child sleep or rest?
- How will you contact me in an emergency?
- Can I see a copy of your registration certificates and inspection reports?

Getting back into learning....

No young person is the same as another. Each young parent is an individual in their own right. It can be really hard to get back into learning once you find out that you are pregnant or become a young parent. There is so much to take in!

We've developed a range of flexible options, from studying at home, to part-time courses for 2/3 days a week. There are courses you can take when you are pregnant and when you've had your baby, some that have on-site childcare, some where you learn with your child and others where you can access free childcare.

For more information on learning opportunities in your area, visit the parentsunder20 website

"Since I started the course I've met so many lovely people that have become friends. They have all helped me change my life and completely turn it around."

Post Birth Contraception

Contraception might be the last thing on your mind but unless you want to become a parent again really soon – you need to give this some thought!

You need to start using contraception from 3 weeks (21 days) after the birth of your baby.

The best contraception for you is a very personal decision – here are some things to consider:

- You can use male and female condoms as soon as you want to.
- You can start to use the contraceptive implant from three weeks after the birth.
- If you are not breastfeeding then you can use the combined pill, the contraceptive vaginal ring and the contraceptive patch from three weeks after the birth.

- You can start the progestogen-only pill any time after the birth.
- It is usually recommended that you wait until six weeks after the birth to start the contraceptive injection because then you are less likely to have heavy and irregular bleeding. It is possible to use it earlier if there are no other alternatives you find acceptable.
- Unless the IUD or IUS can be inserted within the first 48 hours of the birth, insertion should be delayed until four weeks after birth

For more detailed information visit <http://bit.ly/16bUH79>

Sexual Transmitted Infections (STI's)

STIs include:

Chlamydia – Up to 1 in 10 young people may have this but don't know because they have no symptoms. To find out more or to order a free, confidential home testing kit though the post visit www.fillthepot.info or Text Testme1 to 88020 with your name and address and we will send you a free test.

Genital Warts – Warts can take a year or more to develop after infection with the wart virus. Warts are not always visible.

Gonorrhoea – you may have a thick coloured discharge from your vagina or penis and need to pee more often.

All the above are easy to treat, but if left untreated can have serious consequences including infertility. Treatment is straight forward so don't be embarrassed to seek help. To avoid getting an STI or HIV, practice safe sex (i.e. use a male/female condom) every time you have sex. Sexual Health Advice Line: 0800 318 908 or visit: www.leicestersexualhealth.nhs.uk

Alcohol

Alcohol comes in many colours, strengths and tastes. However one thing is for sure, too much of any alcoholic drink can lead to a good night turning into a night you may not want (or be able) to remember.

When it comes to alcohol and sex, bear in mind the following;

- Alcohol can affect your physical co-ordination and decision making abilities.
- Don't drink so much that you are unable to say NO- to anything
- Don't assume it will never happen to you; that can put you at risk
- Drinking quickly, especially on an empty stomach, will affect your ability to remain in control
- Alcohol can affect your judgement – you may end up doing things you may regret later.

For help to stop drinking

For help and advice locally for alcohol please visit www.swanswell.org.uk or contact 0300 303 5000

Alcoholics Anonymous National Helpline- 0845 769 755 or visit www.alcoholics-anonymous.org.uk

You can also contact Alcoholics Anonymous if you are worried about the drinking of family members.

Drugs

Drugs can make you think, feel and act differently and yes they may lead to feeling chilled out, relaxed and happy but they can also lead to you feeling paranoid and anxious if you the good trips turn bad.

To get clear information about alcohol and drugs go to SMST young people's website: www.drugs.org.uk

If you are using drugs think about the following:

- At a time when you want to look your best, drugs can really mess with your good looks. Regular use can affect the condition of your skin and hair.
- Drug use can really affect your health both in short and long-term. Problems can range from being sick and dizzy to heart damage.
- The few hours of a high can result in a couple of days of feeling down and depressed

- Drugs can make you vulnerable and if other people see that you are high you can become an easy target of crimes such as drink spiking and theft.
- You can get in trouble with the police if you are caught with drugs. A criminal record is probably something you would rather do without!
- The best way to avoid all this is not to take drugs, but if you do take them, make sure you know all the facts first!

For help and advice locally about drugs please visit www.swanswell.org.uk or contact 0300 303 5000

Legal Highs

Legal highs' are substances which produce similar effects to illegal drugs (such as cocaine, cannabis and ecstasy) but that are not controlled by law. Just the fact that a substance is sold as legal to possess, doesn't mean that it's safe - you can't really be sure what's in a 'legal high' that you've bought, or been given, or what effect it's likely to have on you. Get help, advice and information on legal highs and know the risks at www.legalhighslethallows.co.uk

Smoking

Most smokers wish they had never started in the first place. Ask yourself –why bother?

- Living with even one smoker makes it more likely you will try smoking yourself. Encourage smokers you live with to take the pledge and Step Right Out.
- The younger you are when you start the more likely you are to become a heavy smoker.
- Smoking seriously affects your health. Your skin will age prematurely, your teeth will discolour and your breathing and circulation will be affected.
- Your breath, clothes, skin and hair always smell of stale tobacco
- Smoking 20 cigarettes a day costs more than £2,500 each year. Can you afford it?
- As bad as store-bought cigs are, illegal and cheap whites are even worse. Illegal cigarettes very often mean other crime is brought into your community.

If you have started and want help to stop:

STOP! is a FREE service where you can get practical hints and tips on how to deal with cravings and get access to patches, gum and other stop smoking medications.

There will be a friendly supportive advisor in your area and you are much more likely to succeed in quitting if you use this service.

If you would like to find out more or make an appointment, contact STOP! on 0845 045 2828, or text them on 07717 420 560.
